CONGRESS REFUSES TO INVESTIGATE

Democrat Members Vote Against Further "Leak" Inquiries

(Special to The Herald.)
Washington, Jan. 11.—The effort to force a congressional investigation of the alleged information "leak" to Wall Street on the Wilson peace note, as well as the effort to censure Thomas W. Lawson or contempt of the house, collapsed today and the whole investigation was abandoned by votes of the Democratic members of the house. The committee also voted to refuse to consider the Campbell resolution asking that five members be appointed to investigate whether any one connected with the executive or legislative branches profited through the drop.

EXPECT BIG DRIVE IN THE BALKANS

German Experts Think Entente Powers Will Go After Turkey.

(Special to The Herald.)
Amsterdam, Jan. 11.—Dispatches from Berlin quote leading German military experts as predicting a big allied drive in the Balkans and against Turkey. These critics hold the opinion that the entente powers have come to regard Turkey as the weakest of the German allies and that a concentrated effort is to be made to break it down.

HARRY THAW ATTEMPS SUICIDE WHEN CAPTURED

Cut Throat and Wrist in House in Philadelphia—Recovery Doubtful

Philadelphia, Jan. 11.—Harry K. Thaw located here this afternoon attempted to commit suicide as they were about to arrest him. With the officers at the door, Thaw slashed his wrist and cut his throat. He was removed to St. Mary's hospital where physicians said recovery was doubtful. Thaw was traced by detectives here to a house near 53 Walnut street after a two days' search. While New York detectives have been searching all over Pennsylvania he has been resting here.

GOVERNOR PREVENTS LYNCHING

Stanley of Kentucky Makes Hurried Trip to Save Life of Negro.

(Special to The Herald.)
Murray, Ky., Jan. 11.—Governor E. O. Stanley of Kentucky who made a hurried trip here on a special train to quiet a mob threatening to lynch Circuit Judge Charles Bush for refusing to hand over a negro, accused of murder, arrived at daybreak and immediately took charge of the guard surrounding Judge Bush in a local hotel. At noon he was said to have the situation under control. Governor Stanley sent word to the leaders that he was determined to prevent the lynching of another negro in this state even at the risk of his own life. "I intend to see that Rube Martin is given a fair trial, at any cost," said the governor.

RECRUITS QUARANTINED

The twenty-three recruits who arrived on Wednesday for the company at Fort Constitution, were placed in quarantine as it was learned soon after their arrival that some of them were sick with measles.

ALL PEACE TALK OFF

German General Says Allies Have Insulted German Honor.

(Special to The Herald.)
Berlin, Jan. 11.—"All peace talk must now be postponed," this declaration attributed to General Ludendorff first-quartermaster general of the German army and chief of staff to Von Hindenburg. A staff officer who has just returned from German headquarters, quoted him as follows: "Germany's peace offer was honestly and sincerely made. That our enemies called it a war-ruse was an insult to Germany's honor. All peace talk must now be postponed."

STATE GOLFERS ARE INTERESTED

Have Protests and Suggestions Before U. S. G. A. Meeting in New York.

E. M. Shayton of Manchester who will attend the annual meeting of the United States Golf Association in New York Friday, as a delegate from the Intervale club, has a good idea in reference to the amateur situation in golf which has caused so much stir among the players of the country. Mr. Shayton will not have a vote as the Intervale club, like the Portsmouth Country club, is an allied and not an active member of the U. S. G. A.

Mr. Shayton's idea is that a court or a committee of five golfers chosen from a list of 25 members of different clubs of the country, pass on amateur questions.

A court of five shall be elected to serve as a jury to consider any allegations or statements signed by five golfers (not more than three from the same club) belonging to any club or clubs, who are members of the U. S. Golf association. They shall be elected by active and allied clubs from a list of 25 names selected by the president and executive officers of the U. S. Golf association: One elected for five years, one elected for three years, one elected for two years, one elected for one year, and one every succeeding year for five years.

That would keep four members on the board who would have had experience in considering all statements sent to them. A secretary shall be employed and full records kept.

The New Hampshire Golf Association through President J. M. Washburn of this city has passed a resolution and forwarded it to the U. S. G. A. with a request that they be read at the annual meeting, protesting against the present amateur rule, which apparently was framed by a small clique in the U. S. G. A. to reach Francis Ouimet, the former world's champion.

There is a strong feeling among the golfers of the country that the present constitution under which the U. S. G. A. operates should be changed and made more in keeping with the present country-wide interest in the sport. At the present time the game is being run by a small clique of golfers who seem determined to keep the control

In their own hands. Unless something is done an upheaval is due in the U. S. G. A. which will be radical.

FOUND DEAD AT DOVER

Two Maine Lumbermen Accidentally Asphyxiated in Lodging House.

Dover, Jan. 10.—Felix Linquist of 2 Cambridge place, Worcester, Mass., and John F. Barry, who is supposed to come from the same city, met their death some time last night at the lodging house a William Couin on Third street in this city, by accidental gas poisoning.

The two men are said to have been working in the woods of Maine. They went to the Couin lodging house. They were intending to go to Lake Winnepesaukee today, where jobs were waiting for them with an ice company.

The two men retired last night and that was the last heard of them until this morning, when Mr. Couin, about 8:15 o'clock went up to their room to call them. As he could get no answer he called up the police authorities, and City Physician Bennett and Policeman Grady went to the house to investigate. There being a strong odor of gas, the policeman was sent for. The officer and the physician found the men in an unconscious condition and worked over them for some time but without avail. Dr. Roberts, medical referee of Strafford county examined the bodies and gave the cause of death as accidental gas asphyxiation. The bodies were then turned over to an undertaker to prepare for burial.

An examination of the clothing of the two men revealed their names. Barry had a letter of recommendation from the management of Collier's Weekly, and one from the proprietor of the Essex house, Worcester, Mass. Barry had $30.33 on his person. The other man but 18 cents. Linquist had a 1914 tax bill from the city of Worcester. Barry was about 40 years old, while Linquist had the appearance of being considerably older.

It is thought that in some way the men must have accidentally opened the gas cock, causing the gas to escape and fill the room.

CROSS, FEVERISH CHILD IS BILIOUS OR CONSTIPATED

Look, Mother! If tongue is coated give "California Syrup of Figs."

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California" Syrup of Figs, that this is their ideal laxative, because they love its pleasant taste and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without griping.

When cross, irritable, feverish or breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue, mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless "fruit laxative" and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. When its little system is full of cold, throat sore, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, indigestion, colic—remember, a good "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Syrup of Figs" handy; they know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here, so don't be fooled. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company."

ACCUSE MR. DANIELS OF MISREPRESENTING FACTS

Ship Building Corporation Makes Sharp Reply in Telegram to His Letter on Government Construction

Boston, Jan. 10.—President Powell of the Fore River Ship Building Corporation has sent a sharp letter to Secretary of the Navy Daniels in regard to the latter's published letter on Federal warship construction. The Fore River letter refers to Mr. Daniels's appeal to Congress for $12,000,000 to put navy yards in condition to build battle cruisers and the great battleships on the navy programme.

The Secretary is reported to have written that "private shipbuilders are unable or unwilling to undertake the complete programme with any assurance of speed in completion even at prices which the department regards as unreasonably high." President Powell's telegram says:

"Newspaper articles quote your letter to Congress stating that the department does not feel warranted in awarding contracts to this company for battle cruisers because you consider that estimated basis allows too large a percentage of profit. In your letter, your chief objection is ostensibly against what you state is the offer for thirty-five per cent for overhead and profit. The manner in which your statement is worded can only give to the public the impression that the thirty-five per cent is largely profit. The fact is, that out of this thirty-five per cent must be met all corporation expenses, interest on bonds, as well as expenditures for salaries, clerical hire, power, heat, light, etc.

Your own officers have stated to this company's representatives after a careful examination of its books, records and estimates, at its shipyard, that there will not be in reality as much as ten per cent actual profit for it under its proposal which is discussed in your letter. Moreover, in its formal proposal to the government this company offered to do this work on any percentage of profit the Federal Trade Commission might find to be fair. That offer the department has not seen fit to accept.

Your letter as reported fails to mention the basis upon which negotiations have proceeded, i. e., that this company agrees to assume the risk of possible increased costs to an extent which might result in its doing the business at no profit whatever.

This company has considered it a patriotic duty to offer the Government its facilities on a basis that would not even be considered for business with any commercial parties under present conditions and to be in a position to build a battle cruiser, has sacrificed over $5,000,000 of merchant construction at prices that offered a total profit of more than it could hope to make under the most favorable conditions, in building one of these vessels for the Government at a total cost of nearly $20,000,000.

We, therefore, most earnestly protest against the unfairness and unwieldiness of your misrepresentation of our attitude towards the fulfilment of the nation's preparedness programme.

INTEREST IS INCREASING IN LECTURES

The enthusiasm deepens and the audience increases at the People's Institute conducted by Rev. Richard L. Swain, Ph.D., in the North Congregational church. The people showed the keenest intellectual interest, and even more radiated the spirit of good will. Everything broadens and deepens as it comes under the vast sweep of modern knowledge. The material handled last night showed that God could be nearer than breathing to the intellect, as well as to the heart. This was the climax of the picture which has been running for three nights. Expressions of deep gratitude are the most characteristic features of the gatherings. The understanding of, and love for God, were reflected from many a face. The Trinity and incarnation considered from the vantage ground of modern knowledge make religion seem almost new. It extends religion to the very finger tips and saves the world from religious chaos. It saves a personal God from annihilation. It lifts man to the very will of God and creates a new religious world, which is nothing short of a vision of the kingdom which Jesus proclaimed and which has waited for modern knowledge to reveal in all its vastness. It was shown that the central teachings of religion become overwhelming and inexpressibly comforting under the sweep of increased knowledge in science and psychology.

The new sense of personality and of a philosophical trinity love for religion what Chaperons did for astronomy with his wonderful discovery. The new man who has grasped these ideas could preach with equal acceptance to the most orthodox or to the Unitarians. It is the making whole of two partial views as seen from the mountain top of present day knowledge and experience. Dr. Swain showed how God could get clear to the surface as a personal God and become the father member of society. He spoke of the poor old God in whom so many believe, as buried fathoms out of sight. He pitied such a God, who lived where he could neither see nor hear, nor breathe. He said that the modern God of the intellect, and of the pure heart was the ineffable God of wonder and of sweet delight. He said there never was a time when people needed so much to go to a rational religious school as now.

He startled his hearers by saying

AT ONCE! STOPS STOMACH MISERY AND INDIGESTION

"Pape's Diapepsin" makes sick, sour, gassy Stomachs feel fine.

Do some foods you eat hit back—taste good, but work badly; ferment into stubborn lumps and cause a sick, sour, gassy stomach? Now, Mr. or Mrs. Diapepsin, let this down: Pape's Diapepsin digests everything, leaving nothing to sour and upset you. There never was anything so safely quick, so certainly effective. No difference how badly your stomach is disordered you will get happy relief in five minutes, but what pleases you most is that it strengthens and regulates your stomach so you can eat your favorite foods without fear.

Most remedies give you relief sometimes—they are slow, but not sure. "Pape's Diapepsin" is quick, positive and puts your stomach in a healthy condition so the misery won't come back.

You feel different as soon as "Pape's Diapepsin" comes in contact with the stomach—distress just vanishes—your stomach gets sweet, no gases, no belching, no eruptions of undigested food, your head clears and you feel fine.

Go now, make the best investment you ever made, by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder.

that God could die, that is, lose the instruments of His will among men, and that the constant destruction of God's instruments by His children was the most shocking tragedy as well as the most pitiful display of ignorance. Modern knowledge is opening up a new, snuffing hell which is created by the tragedies of ignorant wickedness. When the world sees the loving God of our mothers and the God of Jesus under the light of the new psychology it will be a new heaven and a new earth. And no one will have to say to his neighbor, "I know thou the Lord, for all will know Him from the least to the greatest. The doctrine of the immensity of God is headed; the right way but it must be much more deeply and intelligently understood before it brings satisfaction to the heart of man. Men must learn how God can be human before they can learn how men can be divine. These services are becoming a "love feast." Not, however, of a mystical sort, where the eyes are closed to the cold facts of life. Facts are becoming red hot and it is more and more apparent that one can not be at his best either intellectually or spiritually until he is both intellectual and spiritual.

The subject tonight will be "Losing the Bible to Mind It," with the questions "How can we know that any of the Bible is true if it contains errors?" "How may we find the infallible truth contained in Scriptures?"

The lecture starts at 7.30 o'clock this evening and the public is cordially invited to attend.

LARGE NUMBER ATTENDED TALK ON IRELAND

ILLUSTRATED LECTURE DELIVERED AT PIERCE HALL LAST EVENING BY SEAMUS MACMANUS.

The seating capacity of Pierce Hall, both floor and balconies, were taxed on Wednesday evening by an appreciative and responsive audience, gathered to hear the lecture of Ireland by Seamus MacManus, writer, author, and lecturer.

Mr. MacManus was presented to his audience by Jeremiah Crowley, the retiring president of Division 2, A. O. H., under the auspices of which organization the evening was held.

Mr. MacManus took his audience on "A Merry Ramble Around Ireland." In his lecture and made the "tour" doubly interesting by his many humorous stories of the people living on the green island. His talk was illustrated with more than 100 lantern slides, which included some of the finest illustrations of lectures on the subject ever seen here. Mr. MacManus was at his best last evening, and held his hearers to strict attention.

FINE CEREMONIES AT INSTALLATION

NEW OFFICERS OF G. A. R. POST AND RELIEF CORPS HELD LAST EVENING WITH LARGE ASSEMBLY

For a third time Meshach H. Bell, of Portsmouth, was installed Wednesday evening as Commander of Storer Post No. 1, G. A. R., at one of the most interesting ceremonies held by the organization. The occasion was the joint installation of the newly elected officers of Storer Post, and Storer Relief Corps, No. 6. Mr. Bell is serving his third term as commander of the post, having been first elected in 1888, and again in 1916 and 1917. Col. Simon R. Marston was re-elected unanimously as Quartermaster of the post, this being his fifteenth consecutive term in the office. Another honor which has come to Commander Bell reached him yesterday in a commission appointing him an aide de camp to the Commander-in-Chief of the National G. A. R.

The officers of the post were installed by Col. Albert F. Stackpole, past commander of T. W. Sawyer Post, No. 17, of Dover. Col. Stackpole was delegated for the work by the commander of the department of New Hampshire, at the request of Storer Post, and he conducted his work without notes, being "letter perfect" in every instance. With Col. Stackpole eight other members of the Dover post responded to an invitation of Storer Post to be guests at the ceremonies. Col. Stackpole was assisted in the work of installation by Thomas Trelick, retiring Officer of the Day for the post. The ceremonies were very elaborate at both installations and the work in each case was excellent, calling forth continuous applause from the members of the two orders.

The officers of the Relief Corps were installed by Mrs. Herman S. Twombly, past president of the corps, and her work was also excellent. Following the ceremonies a literary program was presented, music enjoyed, and refreshments of sandwiches, ice cream, cake and coffee were served.

The officers of Storer Post for 1917 are:

Commander, M. H. Bell, reelected. Senior vice commander, Charles E. Whitehouse, reelected.

Junior vice commander, John A. Peterson, reelected.

Quartermaster, Col. Simon R. Marston, reelected.

Chaplain, Joseph S. Dookittle, reelected.

Surgeon, Thomas Entwistle, reelected.

Officer of the Day, Past Commander Charles E. Dodge.

Adjutant, Henry S. Paul, reappointed by the commander.

Officer of the Guard, James W. Watkins.

Sergeant Major, David Urich.

Quartermaster sergeant, George E. McIntosh, reappointed by the commander.

Patriotic Instructor, Joseph S. Dookittle, reappointed.

Color sergeant, Henry Morgan, reappointed.

Relief Corps Officers

President, Mrs. Nellie V. Moody.

Senior vice president, Mrs. Lizzie Ballou.

Junior vice president, Mrs. Mary Woodward.

Treasurer, Mrs. Marinda Lang.

Secretary, Miss Edith M. Paul.

Conductor, Mrs. Maude Plisted.

Guard, Mrs. Emma Marston.

Assistant conductor, Miss V. May Moody.

Assistant guard, Mrs. Mary Baynes.

Patriotic instructor, Mrs. Sarah Burnham.

Press committee, Mrs. Martha Rhoades.

Musician, Miss Annie C. Goodrich.

Color bearers, Mrs. Dame, Mrs. Emma Tueller, Mrs. Nellie Prary, and Mrs. Eva Walker.

C. B. No. 3, Eva Walker.

C. B. No. 4, Clara Prary.

At the close of the exercises of the Post chairs were vacated for the Relief Corps.

Installing Officer Mrs. Twombly, before resuming her duties, presented Marion H. Greene, retiring president, in behalf of the Post, a mahogany serving tray and a vase filled with flowers. At the close, refreshments of sandwiches, assorted cake, cream and ice cream were served. A social hour was enjoyed by all.

NATIONAL GUARDSMEN SCORED WITH BALL

With more than 600 present the Benefit Ball for the 1st Company, C. A. G. N. H. N. G., was held last evening at the Armory on Parrott avenue and was a distinct success socially and financially. The drill shed was finely decorated by use of the national emblem and signal flags, the latter having been loaned to the committee by Chief Hoadswain Hill, U. S. N., for the occasion.

"The Mysterious Miss Armory" which was one of the feature drawings of the affair was impersonated by Miss Mae Sullivan of Dover and she was identified by Frederick Parsons before the evening was over. For his trouble Mr. Parsons was the recipient of $10.00 in gold. Another gift made went to Miss Margaret Neville, a five pound box of chocolates, given for the best appearing young lady in the grand march. The grand march was a very pretty sight and was led by Captain Clarence P. Rodwell and Miss Sullivan, followed by Lieutenant Naylor and Mrs. Naylor, Lieutenant Coram and Mrs. Coram. The members of the committee and their ladies, and others. The dancers were presented with an excellent musical program which added delight of Rochester the gold prize for much to the enjoyment of the evening. The ball was in charge of the non-commissioned officers club, as follows:

J. A. McCarthy, Jr., Chairman.

A. L. Hersey, Jr., C. Holmes.

E. A. Weeks, Jr., Treasurer.

Members Arthur L. McCaffery, 1st Sergt., Harris W. Merrill, Mess Sergt., Arthur L. Hersey, Supply Sergt.

Sergeants, Abram V. Steddes, Edward A. Weeks, Jr., Edward C. Holmes.

Corporals, Arthur W. Dunlap, Leslie H. Gardner, James A. McCarthy Jr., John J. Tray, Omar J. Coram, Edward J. Neville.

The judges for the grand march were Captain J. H. Washburn, retired, Sergeant James W. Wilson, and Electrician sergeant Frank Morris.

Appeal to Reason

Ask any of the great army of Postum users what influenced them to try this beverage, and the reply nine times out of ten will be that they were convinced the caffeine and tannin in tea and coffee was harmful to health.

Some imagine it is hard to give up coffee and tea. But it isn't, with the delightful aroma and flavor of Postum at hand. This flavor somewhat resembles that of a high-grade Java coffee, but there is no coffee in Postum—only the nourishing goodness of wheat, skilfully processed with a small per cent of wholesome molasses.

Postum comes in two forms: Postum Cereal, which has to be boiled; Instant Postum—soluble—made in the cup, instantly. Some prefer one, some the other. Made right, they are alike delicious, and the cost per cup is about the same. There's better health, comfort and efficiency in "Pork Barrel" Legislation.

A prominent newspaper in discussing the subject of "pork," a name applied to extravagance and unnecessary appropriations by Congress for public buildings, rivers, harbors, etc., says that with reference to this subject the people of the country are divided into three classes, one of which denies that the extravagance exists, another of which is certain of its existence and determined to oppose it, and still another which ignores the charge entirely. To the credit of our contemporary it places itself unequivocally in the class that recognizes the evil and stands in opposition to it.

The people of the country are familiar with this evil, which, however, will hardly be exterminated by merely crying out against it. Objections have been loud and long, but "pork barrel" legislation goes on. Federal buildings continue to be erected at a cost far out of proportion to the needs in the case, and millions are expended upon rivers and harbors, so called, but which in many cases are not worthy of the name. The appropriations in too many cases are grabs from the public treasury, pure and simple.

The remedy is also simple, but extremely difficult to apply, for the reason that the town or district to be benefited by such a grab is never willing to admit that the appropriation is "pork." It is a dire necessity in every case, as viewed by the constituents of those who are trying to put it through, and it is notorious that the congressmen most successful in securing appropriations for the districts they represent are the most popular among those who elect them. "He does things," they say, which means that he gets things.

As this fact applies alike to all congressmen it is easy to understand why "pork" legislation goes on. Every member wants to get all he can for his district; and so the grabbers stand together, each willing that the others may have a bite if he can get a good one himself. The condition breeds what is commonly known as "log rolling" and the public money is dished out by the shovelful.

If the people were as ready to oppose these extravagant appropriations in their own localities as they are to condemn them on general principles the abuse would stop, but it is to be feared it will never be stopped by branding the other fellows' appropriations as "pork" while insisting that those proposed for themselves are absolute necessities.

"There is every indication," says a contemporary in commenting upon the foreign war, "that the struggle will go on until one side gives way under the prodigious pressure involved." But, unlike Mr. Ford and some others who have indulged in prophecy, the paper wisely refrains from setting the date for either of the parties to "give way."

Outdoor showmen are disturbed by the "erroneous impressions which work to their disadvantage throughout the country." It is up to them to remove these impressions, under which the public labors but for which it is not at all responsible.

A dispatch from New York says that vice in that city has been greatly reduced. And yet there is reason to believe there is room for further progress along the line of cleaning up. And this is as true of other cities as it is of New York.

Intervention in Mexico, not with arms, but with education, is the latest prescription for the troubles beyond the southern border of the United States. But education has not prevented far more serious troubles in other parts of the world.

Editorial Comment

Penrose to Remark
(From the Springfield Republican, Ind.)

Boss Penrose of Pennsylvania, who, responding to the urging of "thousands of persons all over the state," is planning for a legislative investigation of Governor Drumbaugh's administration, promises that "the people of the state will be astounded and in fact appalled, when they are fully informed as to the many acts of maladministration during the last two years at Harrisburg." But should such clean hands risk defilement?

Humor.
(From the Boston News Bureau)

A big soft coal operator writes of the abnormal coal situation and the funny part of his epistle is in the tail of it. "I just overheard a man phoning to Detroit. This man had contracts made last fall for about 25,000 tons of coal, mine run to be 30 cents, egg coal 55 cents, and lump coal $1.25 at the mines

The mines are falling to furnish practically any coal on this contract—may be one car a week instead of getting coal at the prices given above this man is now paying for coal which should have been furnished on that contract, $3.25 to $3.50 for mine run, $3.50 to $4 for egg and $1 to $3 for lump. In calling Detroit this morning to get some coal, that was very necessary for a manufacturing plant here, he found that no coal in Detroit could be bought for less than $5 and yesterday it was selling at $6; understand all of these prices are at the mine and freight has to be added to the prices given."

"The question arises, why is the coal trade in such a deplorable situation? I presume there are two reasons. First, the inability of the roads to furnish cars for transporting the coal. Then the question comes up why can they not transport as much coal this winter as they did last? I have not seen a reasonable answer to this question unless it was inefficiency on the part of the railroad management. The second reason for this situation is that every manufacturing plant and every other user of coal is running to capacity, a condition that has not existed for some years and they are impatient if they do not receive the full amount of coal required, and when they do not receive coal enough they immediately commence to bid higher for coal, with the result that the coal this winter is bringing prices never dreamed of in the past.

More Words

(From the Kansas City Times)
Senator Lewis boldly assured the Senate that the country could no longer go on accepting apologies for violation of its rights by belligerent nations. Hereafter, he asserted, the United States would "punish to the extent of her power any such injury."

That sounds impressive until you reflect exactly what "the extent of her power" may be. Is the extent of the power shown in the costly experiment of sending untrained and unequipped men to the Mexican boundary? Or is it embodied in a navy so lacking in trained men that when a new dreadnaught is commissioned a couple of older ships have to be laid up unmanned?

Just what is the extent of America's power, and what measures are being taken to put meaning into the words?

The War on Bethmann-Hollweg

(From the New York World)
When the Berliner Neueste Nachrichten, which is commonly known as the organ of the Krupps, describes the Imperial Chancellor as a weakling and demands his resignation, it gives expression to a sentiment common to the military party and to all Junkertum.

The Chancellor has never been forgiven for his blunt admission that the invasion of Belgium was a wrong which could be justified only on the grounds of military necessity. His determination to keep the peace with the United States aroused the bitter resentment of all the Tirpitz party, which was committed to ruthless submarine warfare, and the Tirpitz party was supported by most of the General Staff. The retirement of the Grand Admiral was due to his opposition to the Chancellor's policy in yielding to the American demands, and only the present intervention of the Kaiser saved the situation and prevented war with the United States.

Now that the German peace proposal has been rejected by the Allies, it is inevitable that the campaign against Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg should be renewed with greater fury and bitterness than ever. The Neueste Nachrichten has merely fired the first gun, and it will have the active support of all the blood-and-iron extremists who still believe that Germany is a law unto itself and prepared to fight the world.

Thus far there is no hint of a crisis; yet nothing has been more certain for the last year than the precariousness of the Chancellor's position. If he goes, the relations between the United States and Germany will immediately change for the worse.

The Price of "UpState" Manhood

(From the New York Herald)
Mr. William Church Osborn, formerly an unsalaried Democratic state chairman, declared in an address in Washington that in some up-state districts from twenty-five to fifty per cent of the electorate were "in the habit of taking money for their votes" and that thousands of men "could be bought for from $1 to $5 each." The Republicans ought to obtain the details of this Democratic information, for if it will not yield an occupant for the office of state chairman it ought to be of great strategic value in the next campaign.

Two Millions for War

(From the Baltimore American)
Great Britain has two million trained men "somewhere in France." Plainly, the next fighting struggle there will be titanic.

Nitric Acid and Defence

(From the Brooklyn Eagle)
There is food for reflection for all Americans in the remarks of Professor A. A. Noyes of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology at a scientific congress meeting analyzing the importance of nitric acid to national defence in an emergency.

Dr. Noyes said that in the first year of the war Germany actually used a million tons of saltpetre to make nitric acid, and found the supply insufficient for the explosives she wished to make. Chile furnishes us with our saltpetre. From the by-products of coke we get 300,000 tons of nitric acid a year. But in a war emergency we shall have to depend on Chile, unless we can get nitrogen cheaply from the air. That is what Congress saw when it provided for nitric acid experimentation at Government expense.

It is the opinion of Dr. Noyes that cheap nitric acid would increase our farm products by $3,000,000,000 a year. He notes that in Germany, before the war, production had been made cheap enough to justify use for fertilizing. This element lends an interest to experimentation not dependent on war as a possibility. But efficient high explosives without the nitric acid are not in sight, and the defence movement in which most of us are interested cannot afford to neglect the pressing problem.

Our Failing Physique

(From the Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph)

When all other subjects for worry fail we can always fall back on the deterioration of the national physique. An insurance man makes the latest contribution to this fascinating discussion. We learn that out of 1,300,000 applications for life insurance each year 100,000 are rejected. A pen picture of the average American portrays him as

MUST GET ALONG WITH LABOR

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., Says
Big Men of Future Will Be Those Who Can Do It.

Utica, N. Y., Jan. 11.—"Teach young men how to deal amicably with labor" in substance was the advice given to the educational men here today by John D. Rockefeller Jr. in a speech commemorating founders' day at Cornell University.

Mr. Rockefeller declared flatly that the labor capital problem was the largest one now confronting the country. "The time is coming," he warned, "when the big men of the country are going to be selected largely for their ability to get along with the working classes." "Heretofore," he said, "the chief executive or important industrial corporation have been selected largely because of their capacity as organizers or financiers, but the time is rapidly coming when the important qualification for such positions will be an ability to deal successfully with labor."

hustling too much for the good of his health. "His hair has aged and he is getting bald. His digestive organs have been given so many new and arduous duties to which they are not accustomed that they are showing signs of rebellion. He is seriously overstraining his heart, arteries, kidneys, nerves and digestion. Under exertion he is short-winded. His 400 muscles are virtually all soft from lack of use. He never walks when he can ride. The arches of his feet are gradually failing because his muscles provided to hold them up have weakened by long disuse."

It seems that the average American has about every disease except housemaid's knee. Is the picture a true one? Are there not many exceptions to this gloomy appraisal? How about the hosts of baseball and football players among the younger and the golf enthusiasts among the older men? Bowling and basketball are popular sports just now. Should not their thousands of devotees in Pittsburgh and in each of many other large cities help to raise the physical average? The business men's classes in our gymnasiums ought to afford a little gleam of encouragement. Even the billiard players get a certain amount of wholesome exercise. The patrons of the skating rink do not present exactly an emaciated appearance. May it not be that health and mortality statistics are kept a little more strictly and accurately nowadays than formerly? There are tests, too, for life insurance, such as that for blood pressure, for instance, that were unknown a few years ago, and these tend to reduce the number of successful applicants. But, of course, if one really wants to worry over the degeneration of the American physique, these considerations can be ignored.

May We All Keep Our Own

(From the Chicago News)
Surgeons are talking about the day when they can transplant human organs from one body to another. Speed the day when human organs will not need to be transplanted!

Could Afford to Refrain

(From the Springfield Republican)
Simeon Ford, for many years the proprietor of the now defunct Grand Union hotel, New York, writes to the New York Times to deny that he is dead. Mr. Ford is an original, as well as very much alive, humorist, so he probably had no difficulty in refraining from copying Mark Twain's famous announcement.

SMALL TAKEN TO STATE PRISON

Enters Cell to Remain Until Execution a Year From Now.

Cahoon, Jan. 10.—Frederick L. Small of Mountain View, who was sentenced to be hanged on Jan. 15, 1918 in the state prison for the murder of his wife, was brought here and placed in the charge of Warden Chas. H. Rowe today, entering the prison at a little before two o'clock.

Small did not seem at all disturbed by the experience of being watched by the large crowd of people that had gathered at the railroad station and conversed quite freely with his attendants.

He was handcuffed to Sheriff Arthur W. Chandler of Conway and two deputy sheriffs were also included in the party.

Small had no comment to make when he arrived at the prison, but as he entered the doors of the institution it seemed that he for once realized what his sentence meant and for a moment he relapsed into silence.

RAILROAD NOTES

Unless the New York Central railroad company issues an order with in a week entirely prohibiting the sale of liquor on trains, or restricting it to "wet" territory in which it is lawful, the Anti-Saloon League of New York will ask for the arrest of Alfred H. Smith, president of the road, it was announced in New York Wednesday night by William H. Anderson, state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League. Mr. Anderson asserted that officials of the New York Central were notified a year ago of the alleged violation of the law, but that they ignored the notice. Other roads in the state, replied however, and the Delaware & Hudson stopped the sale of liquor on July 1. It was said. The Pennsylvania and the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroads do not sell liquor on their trains, and the Lackawanna, the only other recognized passenger road in the state which continues the sale of liquor does not sell in New Jersey or Pennsylvania, and in New York is walled on the New York Central, its competitor for Buffalo business, according to Mr. Anderson.

The Portsmouth Electric railroad is preparing to repair some of the bridges and renew snow fences on the Rye line.

Two work trains in charge of Conductors Dowbridge and Garside are making headquarters at Portsmouth while working on different parts of the Portland division.

It is estimated that the Boston & Maine will expend more than a million dollars on the general improvements now in progress in the yard at Deerfield, Mass.

"LIFE OF CHRIST" AT THE SALVATION ARMY TONIGHT

The "Life of Christ," illustrated by eight reels of moving pictures, will be given at the Salvation Army Hall on State street this evening at 8 o'clock. There will be illustrated hymns also.

Captain Lawrence has a fine Pathé motion picture machine that gives results equal to the best in this city, and those attending this service tonight will not be disappointed in any way. A full hall is anticipated and those fortunate enough to secure a seat must get there early.

GERMAN CONSUL FOUND GUILTY

With Four Others Planned to Blow Up Munition Plants.

San Francisco, Jan. 10.—Frank Ropp, German consul-general here, said four of his attaches or employees, were found guilty tonight by a jury in the United States district court of having violated this country's neutrality.

"Guilty on all charges" announced the foreman.

All five defendants were accused of having planned to blow up munition plants in America and Canada, steamships carrying supplies to the entente, railroad bridges and military trains.

Besides Ropp, the defendants were E. M. Vonschick, vice-consul; Wilhelm von Bricken, J. P. Van Koolbergen, Margaret E. Cornell, Charles C. Crowley and Louis J. Smith. Koolbergen was out of the country and could not be brought here to stand trial, as his alleged offense was non-extraditable. Smith was the government's star witness.

The case went to the jury at 4 p. m. The verdict was reached at 8.30 p. m. Smith, technically a defendant, was given immunity for testifying for the government.

NEW HAMPSHIRE COLLEGE NOTES

New Hampshire College, Jan. 11.—Calls are coming in from all over the United States for copies of the prize thesis on Recreation written by Miss Goldie Basch of Ashland in the prize competition in sociology last year. Miss Basch won first place and her essay has been printed and distributed, a fund for this purpose having been given by Mrs. William S. Edwards of Sanborville. Mrs. Edwards has just announced that she will make the same gift again this year. This competition was one open to any member of the sociological department, which is under the direction of Prof. E. R. Groves and about twelve essays were handed in. Requests for the prize winner have come in from the Pacific Coast, and several letters of praise for the author have been received from sociologists of high standing in other states.

Prof. E. R. Groves of the sociology department has consented to conduct a department in Rural Manhood, a sociological publication. His department will be called the Rural Sociologist.

Professor Groves has also consented to speak at the community conference to be held this week-end in Augusta, Maine.

The registrar of the college has just announced a new cut system which has been adopted by the faculty to go into effect the beginning of next semester. This system is very much like that now in use in the State College of Pennsylvania, and has been selected after an examination of methods in use in colleges all over the country. Under the new system a student is expected to attend all college exercises, but there are no specific penalties for absences provided. The matter of absences is left to the judgment of the instructor who has power to enforce consistent attendance or allow absences as he thinks the need of the different student demands. This does away with the red tape usually accompanying cut systems, and is felt here to be a step in a liberal direction. There has been a feeling here that no system with a forced set of penalties for absences could be applied with entire success in courses which varies greatly in their nature.

The Reverend F. P. Beal of Hillsboro, New Hampshire, who has just recently come to this country after years of work in China, spoke yesterday at a convention on the Evolution of China. He gave a very interesting talk, illustrating it with stereopticons. Among other things, he spent quite a few minutes in describing the efforts of the Red Cross nurses in China at the time of the war.

CHARGE CONDUCTOR WITH MANSLAUGHTER

Portland, Jan. 10.—A warrant has been issued charging Conductor Albert S. Wentworth with manslaughter as a result of the freight collision near West Bethel, Me., Christmas eve which caused five deaths.

Attempt was made today to arrest Wentworth in Island Pond, but he had left town.

The warrant is based on the decision of the State Public Utilities commission which fixed the blame on the conductor. He is charged with neglect to notify the engineer of the necessity of taking a side track, in not delivering train orders to that effect to the engineer and in failure to apply the air brakes and stop the train after it had run by the siding.

NEW COUNTY AGENT APPOINTED

Ray E. Deuel to Be Located in This County.

Exeter, Jan. 10.—The Rockingham County Farmers' Association has just engaged Ray E. Deuel, who is at the present time county agent in Orleans county, Vermont, to act as county agent for Rockingham county.

Mr. Deuel is a graduate from Cornell University, specializing in animal husbandry and farm management. This course was preceded by considerable practical farm experience and after being graduated he was engaged as instructor in animal husbandry in Cornell for three years. After that time he became a member of the extension service of the state of Vermont and in May, 1914, took up the work as county agent in Orleans county. His work has been very successful, in demonstration work especially with fertilizer and alfalfa. He has introduced new systems of feeding and promoted cow testing associations; has organized co-operative work such as community spraying, the use of chemicals as a considerable saving, which resulted in the organization and incorporation of the Orleans county Farmers' Exchange, which has done a prosperous business during the last year amounting to nearly $100,000. He has recently promoted the work of the New England Milk Producers' Association, also the organization of a co-operative milk shipping plant and creamery. At the present time he is engaged in organizing the co-operative selling of maple sugar products produced in the county. He leaves Orleans county with the reluctant consent of that organization, to enter a field which he feels offers exceptional opportunities for development along agricultural and co-operative buying and selling lines. Mr. Deuel is looking forward to meeting all the farmers of Rockingham county and asking for their hearty co-operation and support in whatever the organization deems best to attempt.

Mr. Deuel is a man with a wife and two children and will probably make his home and headquarters in Exeter and will take up his duties on Feb. 1. At the present time the permanent headquarters cannot be stated, and the executive committee is looking for larger and better quarters.

A meeting will be held as early as can be arranged for in the different communities to explain the program of work for the coming year. This will be advertised extensively later. The organization has a large membership at the present time and this is to be greatly increased by an active campaign throughout the county.

DARTMOUTH TO WITHDRAW

Outclasses the Other Colleges in the N. E. Intercollegiate A. A.

Hanover, N. H., Jan. 10.—Dartmouth college has decided to withdraw from the New England Intercollegiate Athletic Association, it was announced today as a result of a recommendation from the college athletic committee to the student body.

The council announced that it was believed to be for the best interests of the Association that Dartmouth, which in recent years has seemed to outclass the other colleges at the annual track and field games, should tender its resignation, and the students at a mass meeting ratified the suggestion.

In the last 25 years the Dartmouth athletes have been defeated for first honors in the New England Intercollegiate meets only three or four times.

The foregoing letter to the president of the track association from President C. E. Bolser of the Dartmouth Athletic council was read.

"Mr. John Slaver, Jr., president New England Intercollegiate Athletic Association, 100 Waterman street Providence.

"Dear Sir—In due form and another the opinion has been frequently expressed that Dartmouth has outgrown the New England Intercollegiate Athletic Association and should withdraw therefrom.

"Dartmouth has been a member of the association since its organization. The annual meets have so grown into the life of the college that we have been accustomed to consider the opportunity to meet our sister institutions of New England in these friendly competitions almost as one of our rights and privileges.

We have always considered this meet as the culmination of our track season and as such, worthy of our very best efforts. We take pride in our membership in the association and press on in working for its interests.

"For these very reasons, however, as much as the step would cost us, we believe we ought to withdraw, could we thereby further the welfare of the association.

"We concur in the opinion expressed by a state institution that any

PROFESSOR WENDELL HAS RESIGNED HARVARD POST

Had been Professor of English at University Since 1898--Is Resident of Portsmouth Much of the Year

The resignation of Barrett Wendell of this city and Boston, as professor of English has been received and accepted by the President and the fellows of Harvard University. It was announced at Cambridge on Wednesday noon. Mr. Wendell has been made Professor Emeritus of English by the action of the fellows.

The retirement of Barrett Wendell from active professional duties at Harvard means the loss of all those forces for the advancement of learning which go into the making of any college "celebrity." A professor may become that figure by the possession of a unique personality or of a few striking idiosyncrasies only. Or he may radiate from his every glance and gesture a powerful and independent spirit, apt more to excite awe than to invite a friendly or filial attachment. But what ever the qualities that go to the making of a college "celebrity," they are sure to be of the kind that compel affection. Such a man teaches not alone by word of mouth. He instructs as much by his example of manhood, by the standard of his tastes. He is something more than an instructor; he is an influence.

Such a man was Professor Wendell. He always taught most effectively when least conscious or deliberate in his teaching. With his flawless taste in letters, he was the safest possible guide to his students. Always he pointed them surely and directly to the best.

With a gift for whimsical humor to sharpen his judgment, he invariably carried the interest of his students with him wherever he chose to turn the shafts of his penetrating criticism. Ridicule was his favorite weapon for the banal, and he had no mercy for the plums shams, the stuffed dummies that persist in all literature. Always he was sane, sound and exacting. Thousands of young Americans have left his classroom hearing the stamp of his taste and the stores of his learning.

As an author Professor Wendell has placed upon the shelves, casually and with too much modesty, two excellent novels, and a book on English composition which has carried his precise knowledge, the guidance of his flawless taste and his inspiring influence far beyond the walls of Harvard. What ever he wrote himself bore all the graces of a distinguished literary artist. He leaves Harvard the poorer by a genial personality, an unfailing sympathy for the student too often obscured behind an exterior of mocking shyness, and a fund of knowledge which the college will be long in replacing.

Professor Wendell has long been a familiar figure in Portsmouth where he has made his summer home in the old Wendell estate on Pleasant street for a number of years, and the greater part of his time, not spent in his work at Harvard, was passed in this city. The resignation means that Prof. Wendell will retire at the end of the present half-year. Prof. Elias Perry of the Harvard English department is to take most of Prof. Wendell's courses. Prof. Wendell is one of the best known members of the Harvard faculty. He has been teaching at the University since 1880, and has had the rank of Professor since 1888.

He was born in Boston Aug. 23, 1835, the son of Jacob and Mary Wendell (Barrett) Wendell. He entered Harvard University, where he took his A. B. in 1857, and was given a Litt. D. by Columbia University in 1913.

On June 1, 1880, he married Edith Greenough of Quincy, and in October of that year started his teaching career at Harvard. He was an instructor in English until 1888, when he was made Assistant Professor. He served in that capacity until 1898, when he was made professor.

He was a lecturer at the Sorbonne and other French universities in 1901 and 1905, and was exchange Professor from Harvard to the University of Berlin in 1914.

He has been a member of the National Institute, Arts and Letters, Massachusetts Historical Society and a fellow of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences.

Author of Novels

Prof. Wendell was the author of novels and other works. In the novel field he produced "The Duchesse de Milla," in 1885, and "Ranek's Remains" in 1887. He also wrote an English Composition, "Cotton Mather," "Stelliger and Other Essays concerning America," "William Shakespeare, a Study in Elizabethan Literature," a "Literary History of America," "Raleigh in Guiana," "Rosamond," and a Christmas Masque: "The Temper of the Seventeenth Century in English Literature" (Clark lectures at Trinity College, Cambridge, England) a "History of Literature in America"—with Chester N. Greenough: Liberty, Union and Democracy—the National Ideals of America: "The France of Today," which he produced in 1907; "The Privileged Classes" and "The Mystery of Education."

After their marriage Professor and Mrs. Wendell made their home at 355 Marlboro street, Boston, and since that time their home life has been divided between their Boston home and their home in this city.

RENEWED TESTIMONY

No one in Portsmouth who suffers backache, headaches, or distressing urinary ills can afford to ignore this Portsmouth woman's twice-told story. It is confirmed testimony that no Portsmouth resident can doubt.

Mrs. John Smart, 172 Gates St., Portsmouth, says: "About nine years ago I first began to suffer from kidney complaint. I had sharp pains through the small of my back which at times changed to a dull, grinding ache. Whenever I exerted myself in any way the pains were more severe. I was tired all the time, lacked ambition and in the morning always felt worse. Having reason to believe these symptoms were caused by my kidneys, I tried various kidney medicines, but without getting the least benefit until I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Philbrick's Pharmacy. Judging from the results they have already given I am convinced that they will eventually cure me." (Statement given June 27, 1911).

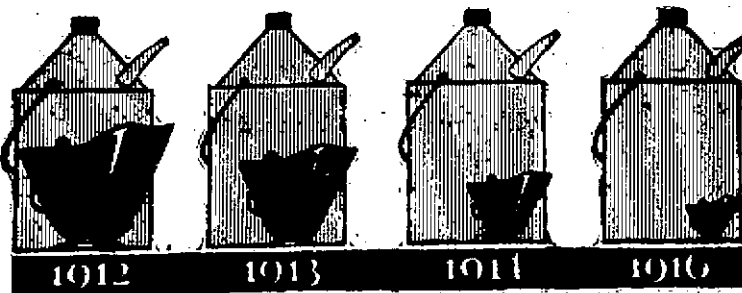

On October 21, 1915, Mrs. Smart said: "I can still continue to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills very highly. They have given me permanent benefit."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Smart has twice publicly recommended. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

TRAP AND FIELD

TO SHOOT FOR ALL-AROUND CHAMPIONSHIP AT PINEHURST.

Fred Plum, of Atlantic City, N. J., Accepts Defl of Frank Wright, of Buffalo, N. Y., and Event Will be Staged January 15.

(By Peter J. Carney)

Ten years ago this month Leonard Tufts inaugurated the mid-winter trapshooting tournament at the Pinehurst Country Club, Pinehurst, N. C., and paved the way for the greatest trapshooting tournament of the winter season.

The first Pinehurst tournament wasn't a big one. No one expected it would be; but it has grown each year until now it attracts trapshooters from every state in the Union and Canada. There was at least, one representative from every state and the Canadian provinces last year, some 130 shooters in all, and in the tournament which begins on January 15, and concludes on the 20th, more than 200 trapshooters will participate.

The Pinehurst tournament has earned an enviable name among trapshooters. Those who attend one tournament always return, and they bring others with them. During the past three years the tournament grew faster than the management anticipated and last year the club house wasn't large enough to accommodate the gathering. This year it will be erected. A new club house has been erected. It is of brown stone and solid logs, 30 by 80 feet, divided into three rooms, each with an open fireplace. The club house is situated on the edge of an oak grove about 100 yards from the former quarters.

A total of 129,616 targets were thrown at Pinehurst last January, and the daily attendance averaged more than 1000 persons. There will be twice as many targets thrown this time and there will be many more spectators because there will be more class to the events. As an added attraction, Frank S. Wright, the former New York State champion, and Fred Plum, of Atlantic City, N. J., will shoot for the All-round Amateur Championship trophy.

Wright hails from Buffalo, N. Y., Plum is the present champion. He defeated J. L. Bartlett of Baltimore, for the title at the West Hogan's shoot. Plum was originally challenged by Henry Powers, of Atlantic City, but as Powers could not shoot at Pinehurst, Wright asked to be allowed to take his place. This event will be shot on January 15. The events at Pinehurst will be identical with those of last year, the main events being the Preliminary and Mid-winter Handicaps, $5000 in cash and trophies will be given in the various events. In the two handicaps events the shooters will be divided into classes, based on the scores made in the first 500 targets. There will be an equal number of shooters in each class. The trophies for the classes will be the Presidents, Governors, Secretary, and Captains. By this system, every shooter has a chance to win a trophy. Those who win in the Preliminary handicap are not eligible for trophies in the Mid-winter handicap. The usual number of trophies will be given for high averages at 500 targets and for the entire week's shooting. Four traps will be used. Pinehurst is awaiting the event. It will be a great week.

Farmers, mechanics, railroaders, rely on Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Pine for cuts, burns, bruises. Should be kept in every home, 25c and 50c.

THREE PLUNGER CONTRACTS HAVE BEEN CANCELLED

CALIFORNIA SHIP BUILDING CO.
MAKES REQUEST OF GOVERNMENT—CONNECTICUT FIRMS TAKE OVER THE WORK.

Washington, Jan. 10.—Contracts for the construction of three coast defense submarines awarded to the California Ship Building Company, Long Beach, Cal., were cancelled by the Navy Department yesterday at the Company's request, and promptly were taken over by the Electric Boat Company, of New London, Conn., and one by the Lake Torpedo Boat Company, Bridgeport, Conn. Of the twenty-seven coast defense submarines authorized by the last Congress, this final apportionment gives twenty to the Electric and seven to the Lake Company.

The California concern originally bid for the construction of five or six submarines of the coast defense type, but the department decided not to award it more than three, that being regarded as the capacity limit of the plant for completed work in the time specified. The contracts for these had not been signed when the request reached the department that the award be cancelled.

THE CITY OF A THOUSAND WONDERS BUILT FOR YOU

There is a wonderful city which rests in the heart of San Fernando Valley, in the State of California, which is the most unique city in the world. It is called Universal City and it is the only municipality in the universe devoted to the manufacture of films. It was officially opened on March 15, 1915, by Mr. Carl Laemmle, the man who created it, and its population of 3515 people are all employed in the art of making pictures.

Since the dawn of history men have built cities, some for refuge, some for defense, and some for habitation, but never before in the history of the world has a city been built expressly for the purpose of making amusement for the rest of the world. It is the magic city of make-believe and one never knows, as they stroll about the streets of this city, whether they are looking at the real or unreal. A stroll through this wonderful city is like turning over the pages of a wonder book; a fairy tale for children. It is nothing more or less than a chameleon city, for its entire reception and appearance can be changed in three days to conform to any nationality, style of architecture, color scheme or state of preservation which any one of the forty producing directors who use this metropolis as their base of operations call for.

Troy, Athens, Rome, Paris, London and New York are known to fame for particular characteristics; Troy for its walls of defense, Athens for its sculpture and beautiful places, Rome for its seven hills and public buildings, Paris for the Eiffel Tower and its beautiful boulevards, London for its extent and diversity of architecture, New York principally for its skyscrapers.

Universal City combines everything which can be found in any of these cities and could represent all of them inside of a week; that is, for motion picture purposes, for there is not a building in the entire limits of Universal City which can not be changed to suit any purpose.

It is this ability to change its color at the slightest wish of the general manager of the Universal West Coast Studio plant which makes this city the most remarkable which has ever been constructed by man.

But aside from this quality, in which it is unique, the extent of the building operations and the thoroughness with which the city has been built and the elaborate plans for the comfort of upwards of 3515 people who inhabit it, has already cost the Universal millions of dollars in solid cash.

A few years ago a man by the name of Carl Laemmle was worrying about with a few hundred dollars' capital, trying to convince his friends that there was a good field in motion pictures.

The majority of those he talked with labeled him as a crank—placed him in the same category with those feverish inventors who talk perpetual motion and the fourth dimension. A few others believed that he was a modern industrial prophet, and these few are now so well fixed that they require the services of the masseur to fight against the obesity which comes of opulence and a good appetite.

Mr. Laemmle first got a good grip on the pulse of the motion picture industry and he has not let go yet. He organized the Universal Film Manufacturing Company. He saw the weaker sisters drop by the wayside. He began making pictures in a modest way with a few companies, but his product was in demand.

About two years ago the Universal built the largest and most up-to-date studio in the world at Hollywood, about five miles south of Los Angeles. It had a weekly capacity of 25,000 feet. With one hand on the helm of the industry, Carl Laemmle went West and inspected the plant.

"Scrap it!" Such was his verdict. In modern business methods six months is the same as twenty years. It was scrapped.

The Universal Film Manufacturing Company then began building the city which stands today as a monument to the great foresight of its president, and today Universal City is the eighth wonder of the world, and one of the places which is on every tourist map. The Occident and the Orient, longitude and latitude, meet in this fairyland. It is the greatest make-believe city in the world. Hindu streets, or Afghan villages, with all the local color of the Far East, are here erected and destroyed in a day. The African jungle, with its beasts and its terrors, are but a stone's throw from the streets of ancient Athens or from western cattle ranches.

One of the largest of privately owned zoos in the world is located in the center of the city, containing practically every known species in the world. Bears from the polar regions, lions from Africa, wolves, leopards, tigers, elephants, reptiles of every description, alligators, crocodiles, camels, many different kinds of birds, a complete dog kennel, all kinds of domestic animals, buffalo, wild-horned cattle, wild horses and cow ponies.

Patterned after our modern forts, barracks have been built for the housing of cavalrymen. Also bunkhouses for the quartering of the cowboys have been erected. These are all equipped

WITH THE SPORTS

New York, Jan. 11.—If Hughie Jennings develops a couple of strong young pitchers who can stand the gait in the American league, look out for the Tigers next summer.

All Jennings is worrying about is his pitching staff. But he is going to make a valiant effort to put the right kind of props under it and the spring training camp of the Tigers will be largely a school for young hurlers.

Jennings will take in the neighborhood of fifteen pitchers to the camp of the Tigers next spring. Of this number six will be veterans unless he pulls off a deal or two in the meantime. George Davis, Coveleskie, Boland, Jones, Cunningham and Mitchell will make up the seasoned staff. But look at the youngsters!

The Tigers have captured Ethmo, from Scranton; Jones from Clinton, Ia.; Couch from San Francisco; Woods and Auten from Portsmouth; Flanagan from Muscatine; Watson, from Denton, Texas, and a couple of young semi-pro hurlers named Acen and Svaris. Ethmo and Couch are expected to make good, and if the reports Jennings gets on some of his remaining youngsters are true, he may have an abundance of talent.

Developing the youngsters successfully will mean much to Jennings. He has the foundation for a good staff in his veterans, and if he can get two who are capable of facing major league batting out of his recruits he will be satisfied and then some.

It was largely the fact that the Tigers were outpitched in crucial series into last season that kept them from making a stronger finish of the race with Boston. Not that they didn't figure strong, but that they would have shown to much better advantage had they been getting the bang-up pitching that such a race demanded. This year Jennings is living in hope that his seasoned slayers will show all corners the kind of wiggling they are capable of when in their best form.

And if they do—well—look out for the Tigs.

In addition to the big squad of young pitchers, Hughie will carry four catchers, seven infielders and seven outfielders to Wazahatchie.

The pitchers and catchers are slated to hit the pike for Texas March 3, while the remainder of the squad will leave about March 10. Nine games against the Giants will be played by Jennings' men.

BABY STAR AGAIN IN PATHE GOLD ROOSTER PLAY

"Baby Helen Marie, Oshorne, re-christened 'Little Mary Sunshine' with the approval of her many thousands of admirers all over the land, returns to the screen in 'Shadows and Sunshine,' a Pathe Gold Rooster Play which will be seen here at the Colonial Theatre on Friday and Saturday.

They say there are no short cuts to fame and fortune. Baby Marie, if her tender age of four had given her the power of argument, could tell you differently. One five-reel picture brought her both, and her chubby dimpled face is enshrined in the hearts of the multitudes whom she has charged with her extraordinary talent.

In 'Shadows and Sunshine' she was again directed by Henry King of Hollywood, who has shown rare talent in bringing out the best there is in the baby star. Particularly notable is her entire freedom from self-consciousness before the camera. The supporting cast includes R. Henry Grey, Daniel Gilfeather, Mollie McConnell and Lucy Peyton.

The mornings are beginning to get a little longer as the afternoons have been doing for a couple of weeks.

BUFFALO BILL PASSES AWAY

William F. Cody was born in Scott County, Ia., February 26, 1846. His father was a frontiersman, who was killed while defending a wagon train from an attack by Indians.

Cody, when still young, became a crack shot, and while still in his teens took his place among the men of the frontier in the dangerous work of keeping the wagon trails open between settlements.

In 1860 he became a Government "pony express" rider, but soon after joined the Seventh Kansas Cavalry in which he served through the Civil war until he was mustered out in 1865.

He earned his title of "Buffalo Bill" in 1867, when the Kansas Pacific Railroad was under construction by killing buffaloes to supply the workmen with food.

In 1872 he was elected to the Nebraska Legislature. When the Indians wars broke out in 1876 he offered his services to the Government as a scout. In the battle of Indian Creek he rode out in front of the battle lines and met the Cheyenne Chief, Yellow Hand, who, at the head of his braves, had taunted Cody to a duel with hunting knives. Cody killed the Chief after a hand-to-hand combat which was not interfered with either by the Indians or Cody's followers.

For his services during the Indian wars Cody was made Chief of Scouts, with the rank of Colonel, and remained in the service of the Government until the Indian troubles were finally settled.

Following his discharge from the army he came East and was offered on the stage by offers from various enterprising theatrical managers. His early ventures for the most part were failures, and he returned to Wyoming.

In 1883 he came east with the first Wild West Show ever seen in this country. His success was almost instantaneous and his show grew in size yearly.

He made a tour of the world with his aggregation of rough riders and Indians, and was decorated by almost every monarch in Europe. While in Russia he conceived the idea of bringing back to America a band of Ural Cossacks, and the success of this venture induced him to add Arabs, Singalese, Japs, South American Gauchos and representatives of almost every nation in the world to his show.

In 1905 he formed a partnership with Major Gordon D. Lillie ("Pawnee Bill") which proved the beginning of his financial downfall. In 1914 the show went into the hands of a receiver and Cody announced himself "dead broke."

Numerous friends came to his rescue, and late in the spring of 1914 H. H. Tammien, of Denver, who owned the controlling interest in the Sells-Floto Circus, put Cody at the head of that enterprise, and at the age of sixty-eight the venerable frontiersman again made his bow to crowded grandstands.

In 1916 the Miller brothers, owners of the 101 Ranch, at Bliss, Okla., offered Cody an interest in their Wild West Show, and he flashed out the circus season with them.

In November, 1915, he showed signs of fast falling health and returned to his home at Cody, Wyo., where, on December 18, he was reported seriously ill.

He was married in 1866 to Louisa Frederick and has no children living. Although Cody was an expert shot with all firearms, he was not one of the "bad man" type prevalent during the settlement of the west. He was never known to kill a white man in any sort of a "gun fight." His physical qualities made him feared among the red-rail of the frontier. He was often known to take a gun away from a so-called "bad man" and administer to the offender a terrific beating.

The Indians made him a tribal member on many occasions, and he spoke many of the native dialects. He represented the Redmen in many important Government deals and was considered one of the foremost champions of their rights.

CEMETERY LOTS CARED FOR AND TURFING DONE

With increased facilities the subscribers again are prepared to take charge of and keep in order such lots in any of the cemeteries of the city as may be entrusted to their care. They will also give careful attention to the turfing and grading of them, also to the cleaning of monuments and headstones, and the removal of bodies. In addition to work at the cemeteries they will do turfing and grading in the city on short notice. Cemetery lots for sale; also Loam and Turf. Orders left at residence, corner of Richardson and South street, or by mail with Oliver A. Ham, 54 Market Street, will be given prompt attention.

Frank B. Sanborn of Concord Starts the Fight in the Probate Court.

Frank B. Sanborn, the "Sage of Concord" is preparing to contest the will of Mrs. Sarah J. Farmer, founder of the famous Greenacre colony at Elliot, Me.

Judge Harry M. Ayer, of York county probate court before whom the will will be offered for probate, has received a communication from Mr. Sanborn, requesting that his name be entered as a contestant.

No explanation was given, nor does it appear in whose interest Mr. Sanborn was acting.

The bulk of Mrs. Farmer's estate a few thousand dollars is left in trust to the Greenacre Fellowship. The testator wrote that she made her will without consulting her relatives who, she added, had been sufficiently helped by her parents.

Mr. Sanborn, who is to contest the will, was at last accounts in New Jersey.

There have been many rumors in circulation as to the value of the

GRANGE INSTALLS ITS OFFICERS

East Rockingham Pomona Grange Meets Here With Local Grange.

A meeting of the East Rockingham Pomona Grange was held here today with the Strawberry Bank Grange, No. 251.

The meetings were held in Freeman's hall, with the opening session at 10 o'clock, when the fifth degree was conferred in full form.

At two o'clock this afternoon there was a public session with a joint installation of officers of the East Rockingham Pomona Grange and Strawberry Bank Grange by Deputy Benjamin E. Gray, past master of Pomona Grange, and suite.

The following program was given during the afternoon session:

Prayer by Rev. William P. Stanley; address of welcome, Hon. Samuel T. Ladd, mayor of Portsmouth; response, Mr. Fred B. Philbrick, master East Rockingham Pomona Grange; vocal solo, "My Laddie" (Thayer), by Miss Mary Shaw, Portsmouth; monologue, "How Mandy Got the Vote," by Mary Moncure Parker, Mrs. Ralph Hayden of North Hampton; vocal solo, "One Fleeting Hour" (Lee), Miss Shaw; reading, "Little God and Dicks" by Josephine Dodge Dashiham, Mrs. Hayden.

The afternoon session and public installation was attended by some over 250 members with seventy-five guests and the exercises were very impressive and interesting. The new master, Fred B. Philbrick of Newmarket, is one of the best known members in the order and the Pomona Grange for this district will be in good hands. He is a well known man of Newmarket for years being the general manager of the electric light company of that town.

Officers Installed.

Master, F. B. Philbrick, Newmarket; overseer, Henry W. Prescott, Kensington; lecturer, Mrs. Ruth B. Drake, Rye; steward, Augustine Neel, Newmarket; assistant steward, James A. Tufts, Jr., Exeter; chaplain, L. D. Bragg, Epiphany; treasurer, Frank H. Brown, Hampton; secretary, Annie M. Perkins, Seabrook; gate keeper, Gilman S. Rowe, Exeter; cress, Mrs. Edith M. Philbrick, Newmarket; Pomona, Mrs. Lizzie B. Seaver, Rye; Flora, Amy B. Evans, Seabrook; lady assistant steward, Mrs. Lath E. Peters, Exeter; pianist, Mrs. Mary A. White, Kensington; member, executive committee, H. E. Gray, Greenland.

Two hundred and twenty-five sat down to dinner at 12:30 and partook of an excellent home dinner consisting of cold meats, beans, pies, cakes, fruit and coffee. It was served in abundance by the following committee: Mrs. J. H. Wright, chairman; Mrs. A. O. Beinfeld, Mrs. Sterling Gray, Frank Wood, Mrs. James Pettigrew, Mrs. Martin Tilley, Mrs. Lucile, Mrs. John Parker, Mrs. Hayden Wood, Mrs. R. E. Hammond, Mrs. James Watley, Mrs. Emma Clark, Mrs. Anne Rutledge, Mrs. E. L. Peterson.

POLICE COURT.

Michael Stonavage, a boarder at a Melbourn street lodging house, has been too friendly with his thirst of late but reached the limit on Wednesday. Michael has been enjoying several free rides in the city hall jitney between his domicile and the police headquarters. In fact the police got tired of furnishing him with side trips with the price of gasoline so high. On one call it took three or four cops and a stretcher to remove him from his room and the policeman came near being brought into action. The police thought he should change his trips to the steam lines of the Boston & Maine and take a free ride on the Bay State Limited. He moved away for 30 days at noon and the only free riding he will get for that period will be on the farming vehicles at the agricultural department of Rockingham county.

Paul Pelletier and Rose McCarthy Burke took up quite a good part of the morning session giving the court the inside facts of a row in which Rose charged Paul with assault.

Both are employees of the culinary department of a local hotel and the argument started close to the kitchen range. Rose showed a few loose molars and other marks on her face which she claimed was the result of a wallop from Pelletier's fist.

Paul testified that Rose was a mistaken woman and that he was not guilty of swatting her features. His defense was that Rose got in the first poke at him and that he simply pushed her away, that in the push she fell and disfigured her face when she bumped it against the floor. Dr. Taylor, who treated Rose, told about her condition to the court, and His Honor decided that the defendant was guilty and his release cost him $12.55.

OLYMPIA THEATRE
NOTES

Prominent persons admit that the motion picture is the greatest social force the world has ever known.

This popular play house was crowded to the doors last evening.

The program itself was unusually good.

Theda Bara was never seen to better advantage than in "Her Double Life."

The two episodes of "Liberty" were greeted with applause and enthusiasm. Beautiful Mae Murray in "Sweet Kitty Bellairs" was the other picture on the bill.

This program will be shown for the last time tonight.

The serial "The Iron Claw," has been admitted to France after a few eliminations by the censors.

"The Great Secret" with Francis Bushman and Beverly Bayne, which is coming here soon, is a $250,000 production.

It is a picture of romance, thrills and power.

On Friday and Saturday Telangle will present Bessie Barriscale in one of her best pictures, "A Corner in Collections," a rollicking Irish comedy-drama from the virile pen of C. Gardner Sullivan.

Next Monday and Tuesday we shall present Douglas Fairbanks in what has been proved to be one of the best pictures of 1916, "American Aristocracy."

FREE TO CHILDREN ATTENDING THE SATURDAY MATINEE AT COLONIAL THEATRE.

A free souvenir photo of Little Marie Osborne, the charming little photoplay star, who was last seen in this city in "Little Mary Sunshine," will be given free to every child attending the Saturday matinee. "Sunshine and Shadows" is the title of the special photoplay feature that stars this little screen wonder, and every child who witnesses the presentation on Saturday afternoon, this week, will leave the theatre much happier.

Parents should insist on their children seeing this picture for it cannot fail in rousing the better nature in any child.

Little Mary's sunny presence brightens everything, and the effect it will have on a child will surely work for the betterment.
